

MySQL Error Log

MySQL Error Log

- The error log contains a record of mysqld startup and shutdown times.
- It also contains diagnostic messages such as errors, warnings, and notes that occur during server startup and shutdown, and while the server is running.
- For example, if mysqld notices that a table needs to be automatically checked or repaired, it writes a message to the error log.